From the questions which have so persistently been put to the talesmen by Thaw's attorneys as to any prejudice against a defense of insanity, it is at least generally conceded that a plea of emotional insanity will be the main reliance of the young defendant. This probably will lead to a cross-questioning of the state's witnesses as to any peculiarity they may have noticed in Thaw's conduct the night of the tragedy, in which event the conclusion of the state's direct testimony may take longer than is now antici-Thaw's attorneys as to any pretake longer than is now antici-

Thaw seemed to be in the best of spirits as the last furor was sworn. Forty talesmen had been examined in vain during the day, when Bernard Gerstman declared he had no such opinion in the case that would prevent his rendering a fair and impartial verdict, and he was not prejudiced against any line of defense and would give the prisoner the benefit of every reasonable doubt. Following is the list of jurors:

Jerome Is Not Satisfied. York, Feb. 2.-Reports that some of the jurors selected will be ex-cused when court resumes Monday were in circulation again today. It was rumored that the health of one of the men chosen is so precarious that District Attorney Jerome hesitates to proceed with the case through appre-hension that the close confinement of the jury will result in his illness and cause a mistrial. It was reported also that the district attorney is anxious to dispense with the services of another juror for reasons known only to himself and the employes of his office.

The activity of detectives in the employ of the defense and prosecution in seeking witnesses and maintaining a watch upon the movements of the other side is on a par with the care exercised in the selection of the jury. This excites belief that both the prosecution and the defense are preparing to delve deeply into Thaw's roord, as well as into the circumstances leading up to the shooting of White. The report to-day that Assistant District Attorney Marshall has induced Miss Ida Fitch of Pittsburg to promise to come to New York and give evidence for the prose ution was taken as further evidence f the extreme thoroughness with which District Attorney Jerome is preparing Once in House and Once in Sen-

THAW TO TESTIFY. He Is Expected to Take the Stand in His Own Defense,

New York, Feb. 2.—At last the jury that is to try Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, is complete and the prospects are good that the taking of testimony will begin Monday, to which day the court adjourned after yesterday's session. There was some talk in the court room after adjournment that there might be a further weeding out of a number of jur-ors. This talk was prompted by a re-New York, Feb. 2.—At the end of a long and tedious day, the eighth of the panel be instructed to be in court Monthe talesmen remaining in the last the talesmen remaining in the last panel be instructed to be in court Monday. But in making the request, Mr. Jerome said he did not expect further delay. Later it was thought that the request for the talesmen was simply a precautionary movement as Mr. Jerome intended to continue his search of the records of the jurymen during the adjournment. Whether the jury as now constituted will stand or not depends on this investigation. It has been believed that the case of the state against Thaw would be quickly presented, but in his statement just before adjournment, Mr. Jerome indicated that it would be even briefer than expected. "I would like to say," declared Mr. Jerome, "that the case of the people will be ready on Monday morning and that the people will open and close on Monday morning. I say this that the defense may have its case.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The senate to-day began consideration of the Indian bill carrying more than $140,000,000. Many amendments were reported by the senate committee to the house bill and the reading of the bill for the adoption of the sage of the strictions. Among these were the amendments affecting citizenship and property rights of the five civilized tribes involving the removal of restrictions for the allenation of lands. It is expected the amendments will be debated for many days.

The first amendment reached which conferred jurisdiction of the court of claims to hear and report findings of fact to congress concerning claims that the defense may have its case.

and close on Monday morning. I say this that the defense may have its case ready to follow."

This was taken to indicate that the district attorney intends to open the case with the baid establishment of the fact that Thaw killed White and the fixing of the time and place. It is expected that he will put on three or four witnesses and that one or more or them probably the pollcemen to whom Thaw surrendered and the sergeant of the tenderloin station, who took Thaw's pedigree, will testify as to Thaw's apparent sanity. The heat of battle will be on the rebuttal testimony after the defense has met the opening testimony presented by the prosecution. Mr. Hartridge has summoned over fifty witnesses. Many of these may never be heard of in the trial. If as has been suggested, Mr. Hartridge meets the establishment of Thaw surrendered and the sergeant of the tenderloin station, who took Thaw's pedigree, will testify as to Thaw's apparent sanity. If as has been suggested, Mr. Hartridge meets the establishment of Hartridge meets the establishment of the prosecutor's case with evidence to show that Thaw was insane at the time he killed White, the district attorney will have a chance to call his allenists, who have been in constant attendance during the election of the jury. During the closing scenes of the jury choosing Thaw watched every movement of the representatives of the people as well as of his own countries the was keenly alert to each question asked by Mr. Jerome or by Mr. Garvan, the assistant. Each talesman as he took the witness chair for examination was scrutinized closely by the prisoner. The mother of the ac-cused man was not present, but his two sisters, the prisoner's wife and May McKenzie, were sitting near him and all of them joined him in the close

Attorney General Fred Jackson has refused to dismiss C. W. Trickett, the assistant attorney general in charge of the enforcement of the prohibitory law in Kansas City, Kan.

yesterday and urged him to take this action. Mr. Jackson is said to have replied to this delegation:

"Gentlemen, I have information in my possession concerning certain officials in Wyandotte county which has caused me to determine to keep Mr. Trickett in the service of the state."

The chief argument represented by the Kansas City men for Trickett's recall was that Kansas City, Kan., and Wyandotte county were able to take care of their own affairs and that the state should not interfere. Mr. Jackson asked this question or the delegation:
"Don't you think Dr. Gray, the mayor, ought to have something to say as to ought to have something to say as to the need of an assistant attorney gen-eral?"

The delegation thought that Dr. Gray should have something to say, as he has a great deal to do with law enin Kansas City. Then Mr. "Well, Dr. Gray has requested me to keep Mr. Trickett at work, for a little while at least." This was a stunner and the members of the delegation did not have anything more to say for quite awhile. It is reported that influence is to be brought to bear on Dr. Gray to have him change his mind about keeping Mr. Trickett.

A charge of corruption was made by several members of the delegation against Mr. Trickett, but they did not get very far with it. Clash With Japan the Remotest of Possibilities.

Relations Between the Countries Never More Cordial.

IN A YEAR OR TWO

All Difficulties Will Be Settled Amicably

If Only San Francisco Will Do Her Part.

Chicago, Feb. 2.-A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: War with Japan is the remotest of possibilities. The differences between the two countries owing to the refusal of San Francisco to permit Japan pupils to enter the public schools of that city never has reached the stage where it created a fear of an armed clash between the two countries.

Reports of possible war that have been sent out from Washington are not only misleading, but are wholly unjustified by any facts in the possession of either government. The relations between the United States and the empire of Japan were never more cordial than they are today. The Japanese diplomatic representatives are well acquainted with the situation, and President Roosevelt has succeeded in se-curing the consent of Japan to a basis of compromise which will settle the whole difficulty within a year or two, provided the people of San Francisco War Scare in Europe.
